AMERICANS CLOSE ON AACHEN

SECURITY THROUGH FORCE IS PLANNED

BIG FOUR ANNOUNCE DETAILED PLAN FOR PEACE ORGANIZATION

WOULD BE BACKED BY
POWERFUL ARMED UNITS
AND SPECIAL AIRFORCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—A detailed but, incomplete plan for maintaining peace by force was presented to the world today by the United States, Britain, China and Russia, and President Roosevelt asserted the task of designing the future security of the world "has been well begun."

The organization of the world to preserve peace and security, Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement, represents "a major objective for which this war is being fought, and as such, it inspires the highest hopes of the millions of fathers and mothers sons and daughters engaged in the terrible struggle and suffering of war."

The security organization calls for converting the war-torn United Nations into a permanent peace organization backed by powerful armed forces, including a special air detachment capable of lightning blows against any future aggressors.

An announcement of its tentative details came as United Nations diplomats foresaw the possibility of an early four-power meeting "at the highest level" to tighten war-related relations and to complete the security organizations blueprint.

General Assembly

As now drawn, it would consist of a general assembly of all "peace loving states," a security council of 11 nations which would have final authority on all uses of force; an economic and social council to work out the world's economic ills, and an international court of justice.

The general assembly, the security council, and the economic and social council each would have a president and the greatest prestige obviously would attach to the presidency of the security council, whose members would include permanently the "big four" and "in due course," France.

Amendments to the decisions of the council, when peaceful methods failed, would be made available "on its call" by member nations of the organization. The air force detachments, however, would be "held in readiness" for action.

It was said on high authority that the measures by which the United States would furnish its share of forces remain to be decided, but the administrative branch is expected to press for a blanket authorization to obviate the necessity of asking authority each time forces were to be used.

Organize Years Ahead

In his statement Mr. Roosevelt said "aggressors like Hitler and Japan must be kept in mind for years for the day when they

T-Sgt. J. V. Warner Killed In Action Belgium Fighting

T-Sgt. Jessie V. Warner, 30, U. S. Army, infantry, veteran of nine years service and twice wounded in action in France, was killed in action in Belgium September 11, according to a telegram from the War Department received by his sister, Mrs. Lorraine Wood, 405 South Twenty-Third and a half street.

Overseas two years, Sgt. Warner was first wounded on D-Day when the American forces stormed the beaches on the Cherbourg peninsula and was again wounded August 1. He had participated in major battles in North Africa, Sicily, Italy and France. Prior to entering the service he attended the Hubbard high school.

A brother, Pvt. Wesley Warner, U. S. Army, infantry, is now stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri.

WENDELL WILLKIE TO LIE IN STATE NEW YORK CHURCH

MAN WHO TOOK VITAL INTEREST IN "ONE WORLD"
DIED EARLY SUNDAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The body of Wendell L. Willkie, whose death yesterday brought messages of sympathy from many parts of the "One World" in which he took such a vital interest, will lie in state at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church from 2 p. m. today until funeral services at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

The man who polled 22,338,801 votes for president in 1940, when he was the Republican candidate, died at 2:20 a. m. yesterday at Lenox Hill Hospital, which he entered Sept. 1 for a rest and physical checkup.

He contracted a streptococcal throat infection last Wednesday which affected the heart muscles. Death resulted from coronary thrombosis.

His family said the body of the 52-year-old former public utility executive would be sent to Rushville, Ind., where burial will be held immediately. The date of burial will be determined by the return of Mr. Willkie's son, Lt. (jg) Philip Willkie, USNR, now on convoy duty in the Atlantic.

Thousands of messages of sympathy deluged the family. President Roosevelt said:

"The nation will long remember Wendell Willkie as a forthright, American, earnest, honest, whole-souled, he also had tremendous courage. This courage which was his dominating trait prompted him to stand up to the great issues of the day and to challenge the wisdom of counsel taken by powerful interests within his own party. In this hour of grave crisis the country loses a great citizen through his untimely death."

Goc. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, commented:

"His death will be mourned throughout the world. A forceful and courageous man, he made a notable contribution to the political and philosophical discussions of these critical times. His passing is a loss not only to the Republican party but to all of us Americans of both parties who shared his faith in representative government and his earnest hopes for world peace."

Read of Willkie's Death and Fainted

Many people the world over were shocked by the news of Wendell Willkie's unexpected death, but few suffered the reaction of a young woman clerk in a downtown Corsicana drug store this morning.

Upon opening a weekly magazine carrying a flash report of the statesman's death, the maiden raised her hand to her forehead, stated she had never received such a shock, and promptly fainted.

Two pharmacists on duty in the store quickly brought the clerk back to consciousness. Asked what caused her fainting, the victim replied, "I don't know. I was just so

Purple Heart For Staff Sgt. Farmer Killed In Action

The Purple Heart decoration awarded Staff Sgt. Denton Farmer, 28, U. S. Army, infantry, killed in action in France June 12, has been received from the war department by his wife, Mrs. Joyce Farmer, Abilene.

The son of Mrs. Ruth Farmer, Purdon, he entered the service in March, 1942, and went overseas in April, 1944.

Prior to entering the service Staff Sgt. Farmer was employed at the American Well & Prospecting Company.

POWERFUL NEW RED OFFENSIVE OPENED ON NORTHERN FRONT

RUSSIANS SURGE 62 MILES
FORWARD ON 175-MILE
LITHUANIA FRONT

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The German high command said today the Russians had forced a crossing of the Tisza river, last natural barrier to Budapest, in Southern Hungary.

Russians were "being held in bridgehead positions," the communiqué said.

(Another version of the communiqué, as reported in New York said German and Hungarian troops were "defending their bridgehead positions" on the Tisza, apparently meaning that the Russian had not yet crossed the river but had driven the Germans back to narrow positions east of it.)

By DANIEL DELUCE

MOSCOW, Oct. 9.—(AP)—A powerful new Russian offensive, surging 62 miles through the wavering German battle front, appeared today to have virtually cut off at least 15 German divisions north of the port city of Memel while Soviet columns invading Hungary from Romania were reported within 72 miles of Budapest.

The Baltic breakthrough on a 175-mile front west of Siauliai in Lithuania, a Soviet communiqué said, enveloped over 2,000 prisoners in four days and carried to within 25 miles of Memel, pre-empting a quick capitulation of that port and a thrust southward on the German soil of East Prussia.

The Russians destroyed the backbone of a force of more than 800 German tanks and 200 self-propelled guns and captured large numbers of prisoners, with the German dead and wounded mounting to several thousands, Pravda reported.

It appeared that the Nazis—with this significant loss—may have considerable difficulty in holding a line along the Niemen river, which is the natural northern defense line of East Prussia and where a great major battle seems to have been fought.

Meanwhile, Russian columns speeding into southern Hungary in two days reached the Tisza river, last big hurdle before imperiled Budapest, capturing 4,000 Nazi prisoners. In the central plains the Red army was still a few miles short of the river.

MARSHALL RETURNS FROM CONFERENCE WITH MONTGOMERY

WITH U. S. SEVENTH ARMY
In France, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, arrived at Seventh Army headquarters today by plane from Holland where he conferred with Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, head of British ground forces in Europe.

Marshall and James F. Byrnes, War Mobilization Director, arrived in Paris last Friday from Washington.

Talking with war correspondents here, Marshall said the full disposition of American air strength throughout the world had been completed and allocation of ground forces were being carried out rapidly. He said there were adequate replacements for all ground force operations wherever they were being conducted.

Discussing action in the Pacific, he told the correspondents:

"Our greatest trouble in the Pacific is that we are a long way ahead of our schedule. You know our success in the Pacific has been operations in the Philippines. It was tremendously successful against the Japanese, who were superb in efficiency and not formidable in numbers."

Purple Heart Is Received by Mother Wounded Soldier

A Purple Heart decoration recently awarded to Pfc. Sam A. Johnston, U. S. Army, infantry, wounded August 5, was received this week by his mother, Mrs. S. A. Johnston, of Corsicana.

Pvt. Johnston, a former student of Mildred High school, has recovered and is back on duty with the American forces in Western Europe, according to a letter received by the parents along with the Purple Heart.

This is the second Purple Heart received by the Johnstons, the other having recently been received from Pfc. Albert Johnston, another son, now recuperating in a hospital in England from face, leg and foot injuries received several weeks ago in France. A letter received a few days ago said he was recovering.

GERMAN ATTACKS ON HILL DOMINATING HIGHWAY REPULSED

GERMAN ESCAPE ROUTE
CUT TO ONE AND HALF MILES MONDAY

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press War Editor

U. S. First Army troops cut the German escape gap from Aachen to only 1 1/2 miles today, and the closing doughboy vise severed the main road from that rubbled industrial city to Cologne.

Yanks who cut behind the city from the southeast threw back three German attempts earlier in the day to retake Crucifix Hill, dominating the Cologne road. Other troops from above the city pressed southward, bringing in the upper bend of the pincers.

Two thousand U. S. planes struck into Germany, raiding the Schweinfurt, Coblenz and Mainz industrial areas.

On the diplomatic side, Prime Minister Churchill arrived in Moscow for discussions with Premier Marshall, perhaps on peace plans. U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman is expected to represent the United States in the three-power talks.

Westward near the sea, Canadians in a two-day assault landed behind 5,000 Germans fighting in a small strip south of the Schelde. This stroke was aimed at relieving pressure of German blows on the Leopold bridgehead over the English Channel.

Doughboys at Aachen were prying the Germans from houses in the city's outskirts.

Aachen's defenders were isolated save for one last road to Cologne, and this was swept by shells and machinegun bullets from U. S. positions only half a mile away. The developing doughboy thrusts threatened a major breakthrough of western divisions before Cologne and Düsseldorf.

Farther south, the U. S. Third Army had taken 1,700 prisoners in an offensive between Metz and Nancy that shoved forward six miles and seized eight towns. The assault was launched Sunday along a 20-mile front.

Below Metz at Fort Driant doughboys still fought to overcome ingenious and cunning defenses, but were reported making only little progress in an underground tunnel barred by steel doors.

FLAT DISAGREEMENT OVER AN ALLEGED GAG ORDER FOR RAINEY

UNIVERSITY OFFICIAL
SAYS ORDER MADE;
RECENT DENIES IT

AUSTIN, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The administrative heads of the University of Texas and Regent D. F. Strickland of Mission were in sharp disagreement today over a statement of University Vice President J. Alton Burdine that he had been instructed to tell President Homer P. Rainey that Rainey was "making too many speeches like those before religious groups."

Strickland said "there was no ultimatum and no conversation," adding there has "been no attempt to get Rainey."

Burdine issued a formal statement here, saying that Strickland telephoned him on October 1, prefaceing "his discussion of a number of matters by informing me that he was making too many speeches like those before religious groups."

Rainey said here last night that "they are harassing me in every way possible. I said a year ago that there was a campaign of petty sniping. I may issue a statement later in the week and tell the whole story."

At Dallas, Bickett, chairman of the board, said: "No such conversation occurred in my presence with reference to undertaking to limit speeches by public utterances by Dr. Rainey. So far as I know, no such conversation occurred."

Schreiner issued the following statement from Kerrville:

"I have had no part in any such ultimatum or relayed any message to Dr. Rainey concerning his speeches. Nor do I know of any ultimatum of any character being sent him."

The controversy arose after publication of the statement.

THERE IS NOTHING BLUE FOR THE ALLIES IN WAR NEWS ON THIS MONDAY; PUSHES CONTINUE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

We can't complain about this being a Blue Monday, what with the continued success of the American First Army in the Aachen battle and the great Russian advance in Lithuania.

Taking it on the whole (and knocking wood discreetly just in case) things look very good for the week-end. We really are getting ahead with the job.

The most important news from the Western front is that fair fighting weather, upon which we depend whether the allies are able to force Hitler's surrender this week-end or the week-end. As a result British and Yankee warplanes swarmed over the reich in one of the heaviest aerial assaults of the war. For the first time, too, we find the Germans labelling the Aachen show as a major assault.

Indications are that this Nazi estimate is correct. If it is it means that things are going well enough in the Aachen sector to warrant General Eisenhower in regarding it as offering chances for a clean

Navarro County Hospital Board Transfers Fund

Navarro county hospital board Sunday authorized the transfer of $5,532.27 from the Navarro County P. and S. Hospital fund to the general fund of Navarro county. This action was taken at a special meeting of the board held at the hospital after it was found that a surplus of that amount had not been transferred from that account to the treasury of the county.

This represents refunds that were charged against receipts and then not properly credited and transferred. E. Y. Cunningham, county auditor, advised the board after checking the books and bank balances. He said some $800 was in that fund in 1932, twelve years ago and that had been increased each month by the refund amounts until the present figure was reached.

The hospital board requested the county pay off a note to the First National Bank of $991 plus interest, the balance on the cost of an X-Ray from the amount transferred Sunday.

Surplus funds of county departments go to the general fund, J. C. Roe, county attorney, has advised. A check for the $5,532.27 was delivered to the county auditor by Edna Benson, superintendent.

Increased Cotton Crop Estimate Is Released Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The agriculture department today forecast this year's cotton crop at 11,053,000 bales from 500 pounds gross weight, compared with forecast of 11,483,000 bales a month ago, 11,427,000 bales produced last year, and an average production of 12,455,000 bales in the ten years 1933-42.

The census bureau announced that 3,984,761 running bales, counting round as half bales and excluding linters, had been ginned from this year's crop to Oct. 1, compared with 5,749,745 bales a year ago, and 5,006,307 bales two years ago.

The condition of the crop was reported by the agriculture department to be 79 per cent of a normal on Oct. 1, compared with 75 a month ago, 72 a year ago, and a ten-year Oct. 1 average of 58.

The indicated acre yield was forecast at 28.6 pounds, compared with a forecast of 27.4 pounds a month ago, 25.5 pounds last year, and a ten-year average of 22.6 pounds.

The Oct. 1 condition, indicated acre yield and indicated total production, in equivalent 500 pound bales, were reported as including: Oklahoma, condition 78 per cent of a normal, indicated acre yield 20.4 pounds, and indicated total production, 680,000 bales; Texas, 71.16 per cent, 25,000,000; New Mexico, 85.493 and 112,000.

The census bureau reported ginnings to Oct. 1, by states, with comparative figures for a year ago, as follows:

Arkansas 446,407 and 554,301; Louisiana 319,370 and 403,483; New Mexico 3,850 and 14,802; Oklahoma 98,034 and 97,339; Texas 720,784 and 1,471,055.

GERMANS REPORTED PLANNING EVACUATE CAPITAL OF GREECE

BRITISH TROOPS RACING
VIRTUALLY UNOPPOSED
TOWARD CORINTH

ROME, Oct. 9.—(AP)—German forces were reported preparing to evacuate Athens today as British troops, racing virtually unopposed across the Peloponnese, neared the southern entrance to the isthmus of Corinth, gateway to northern Greece.

Dispatches from the front yesterday said British troops were approaching the outskirts of Corinth, at the base of the narrow isthmus after seizing the port of Navapilion, and it appeared possible they may already have entered the city.

Full of Corinth would seal off the only overland escape route for any German troops remaining in the Peloponnese and would place the Allies only 45 miles from Athens.

It was believed unlikely, however, that the Nazis had begun evacuating Athens came from British fighter plane pilots operating from Greek bases, who said they had observed a considerable concentration in the port, including a number of ferry type craft and several large ships.

British commanders asserted the Germans were fleeing Greece "by land, sea and air, apparently expecting efforts to withdraw before the onrushing Russian forces, bulwarked by Bulgarian troops and Yugoslav Guerrillas, cut off their escape routes."

AMERICANS ADVANCE ALONG MAIN ROAD TO BOLOGNA, IN ITALY

ROME, Oct. 9.—(AP)—American troops have advanced nearly two miles more along the main road north to Bologna, bringing them within 10 miles of that major communications center of the Po Valley. Allied headquarters announced today.

The newest advance was made in bad weather along highway 65, between the twin mountains of Castellazzi and Barbarolo and against strongly reinforced enemy positions.

The Germans, meanwhile, continued to mass reinforcements in front of both Bologna and Imola and were reported bringing up heavy artillery for a further delaying action.

In the Adriatic sector, Eighth Army troops advancing across the Fluminio river, have cleaned up German resistance on Monte Gallo, the communistic said.

On the right flank of the 12-mile front south of Bologna, British Fifth Army troops for the third straight day battled Germans for possession of strategic Monte Cece, overlooking the Ponzuolo-Castel Bolognese road.

In the west coastal area negro troops of the American 92nd division cross the Sorra river and entered Seravezza, about 21 miles southeast of La Spezia.

Headquarters said Brazilian troops continued limited advances against snipers, machinegun and artillery fire in rough and difficult terrain to the east of the 92nd Division sector.

Despite bad weather, a few Allied planes attacked barges and schooners at Sietri Levante on the Gulf of Genoa.

U. S. FIRST ARMY CLAMPS DEATH GRIP ON IMPORTANT POINT

AMERICAN CLEANUP
SQUADS ALREADY OPERATING AACHEN OUTSKIRTS

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The U. S. First Army clamped a death grip on Aachen today in twin drive which left an escape corridor only a mile and a half wide northeast of that ancient coronation place of Teutonic kings.

Despite desperate German counterattacks, three of them up Crucifix Hill, overlooking the city from the northeast, Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' warriors cut the last major road out of Aachen, the Adolf Hitler Highway running to Julich and Cologne, and severed most of the secondary roads.

Driving south from the Ubachl breakthrough zone in the Siegfried Line, Hodges' fighting Americans overran Bardenburg and reached the edge of Wurselen, through which runs the only secondary road remaining for an estimated 4,000 German garrison of 1,500 SS Guards.

Already American cleanup squads were moving through the outskirts of the ancient crossroads city, cleaning out Germans who clung to their positions house by house in obedience to orders to stand and die.

On Southern Fronts

On the southern fronts, the Seventh Army had moved up to within eight miles of Belfort in the mountain gap fringing Switzerland and were hell-bent for Belfort's outskirts. Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's shock troops of the Third Army cut their way through 300 yards of underground tunnel in Fort Ispan at Metz, burning down five steel bunkers in the advance.

To the north of the 460-mile Allied front the Canadian army shot an amphibious spearhead two miles across the four-walled waters of a Schelde river inlet and landed at the rear of a die-hard garrison of 5,000 men holding a pocket south of the estuary.

The landing, just east of the village of Houtin, 33 miles west of Antwerp, was described as supreme headquarters as in "some strength and was declared to have been carried out successfully."

It was hoped the operation would cut off aid to Canadiana holding a bridgehead across the Leopold canal, 10 to 15 miles to the southeast. This bridgehead had been subject to heavy pressure for three days, since the gateway was crossed in the face of a flame-thrower attack. The bridgehead was further reduced today, however, and was described as split and driven back to the dikes of the canal line.

U. S. BATTLEFORCE SILENCED GREATER PART MARCS DEFENSE

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

A strong U. S. battleforce stood off Japan's tiny Marcus Island all day yesterday and with "deliberate and destructive gunfire" silenced "the greater part of the coast defense batteries."

Neither Adm. Chester W. Nimitz surprise announcement early today for a previous report by Tokyo made mention of planes attacking or defending the outpost island 1,335 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Shore defenses and installations were heavily damaged by the bombardment, which Tokyo said included the 16-inch guns of U. S. battleships. The attack was carried out by units of Adm. William F. Halsey's Third fleet which has been pounding the Philippines and the Palau Islands.

The German Transoceanic news agency said that over the week-end about 1,000 American planes raided Koror, administrative center of Japanese mandated islands situated in the heart of Palau.

Thousands Japs Killed

In the conquest of nine southern Palau Islands, Marines and soldiers have killed 12,233 Japanese and captured 225 since they first landed Sept. 15.

Admiral Nimitz announced last night that ground troops advancing behind Corsair planes dropping 1,000 pound bombs made small gains against the only remaining pocket of Japanese on Peleliu, the largest of the conquered islands.

Bombers patrolling sea lanes south of the Philippines sank or damaged 25 Japanese coastal vessels and small craft, hit seaplanes at Zamboanga, and lashed again at the vital Balikpapan oil center on Borneo.

Tokyo claimed a surprise Japanese raid on the Superfortress base at Chengtu in northwest China destroyed 44 American planes, including 23 B-29s. Tokyo said the attack was made through adverse weather which curtailed U. S. air operations.

THE DEADLOCK POLICY

The Anti-Roosevelt group wants the state presidential electors to vote for Senator Harry Bird of Virginia for President, and perhaps create a deadlock. In that case the House of Representatives might choose next president.

This is ancient tactics indeed. It recalls the election of 1836, when the Whig party sought to defeat Martin Van Buren by nominating four candidates, each of whom was expected to carry his own section. Gen. William Henry Harrison was supposed to win the West, Daniel Webster was assigned to New England, Hugh L. White would carry Tennessee, and Willie P. Mangum North Carolina. If each made good, there would be no choice for President, and the House of Representatives would pick a President at leisure.

There were just two troubles with this scheme: it was too smart, and too easily seen through. The voters responded by giving Van Buren a majority over all four, and he became President.

The present plan is equally indirect, and will end with a Roosevelt victory.

NEUTRAL SHELTER

Secretary of State Hull, warning neutral nations that if they shelter Axis refugees they will lose American friendship for years to come, spoke not a moment too soon. When Germany is conquered, Nazi authorities will have to go elsewhere—or think they will. Those at the top, with ill-gotten wealth stored in other countries, will wish to follow it. The Allies have other designs, but some may escape.

Sweden says her frontiers will be closed to persons who "by their actions have defied the conscience of the civilized world or betrayed their own countries." Turkey has announced that her frontiers are closed to all Axis nationals. Switzerland says simply that she is "fully alive to the problems which would arise, should Axis leaders find asylum in Switzerland." It is not a categorical refusal of refuge, but Switzerland usually takes a right path. Spain twists out of a direct refusal by saying that there is "no basis for supposition that Axis leaders might find refuge in Spanish territory." This gives a loophole for entrances "never expected."

Portugal has been an ally of Britain for hundreds of years, is proud of it and usually co-operates. But a definite stand would be welcomed.

Argentina is the weak spot. A government which does not represent the people of a nation is apt to be corrupt, and much Axis money is believed to be there, helping to keep the present government in power. Argentina will stand careful watching. The Allies are now watching it, and it is hoped that they did not begin too late or leave any gates unguarded.

PROTRACTED WAR

"I hope I am terribly wrong," writes an American correspondent in France with Gen. Patton's army. "But I don't think the war in Europe is nearly over."

Many Americans at home are reluctantly inclined to the same conclusion lately, in spite of the occasional bursts of optimism when news comes that ground is won or a battle gained. It is evident that cracking the inner German defenses and driving to Berlin is likely to be a slow, gruelling business, probably getting harder rather than easier as the Allies proceed.

How could it be otherwise when the Germans, in addition to their inner defenses, are steered by the knowledge that the Allies are determined on complete conquest and control, along with a large partition of German-held territory?

The Allies are right in the frank and fearless statement of their aims; but it does not make the conquest any easier.

LOST AND FOUND

Since its establishment in March, 1943, the lost and found department of the paper Stars and Stripes has become indispensable to GI Joe. Through its columns and the efforts of a tireless staff, he has retrieved photographs, wallets, cameras, marriage licenses and monies.

Many of the letters to the department, however, concern people rather than things, according to Sgt. Ralph Martin. There was, for example, the corporal who wanted to find his grandmother. There was the boy who saw his brother's name carved on an Italian gun and wanted to get in touch with him, and the father who desired news of "My son, Bezouzar Abdelkader, who is probably a mascot of some Army unit somewhere." These requests, says Martin, are not exceptional.

Apparently GI Joe who at home was wont to lose telephone numbers or call down the stairs, "What did you do with my pants?" is still the same Joe, in uniform or out of it. He is lucky to have the Stars and Stripes watching over him until he gets back.

SPEECHMAKING

NOMINEES

Gov. Dewey's speechmaking trip across the country, if television becomes practical soon, may be the last such exertions by a presidential candidate. Such trips are fairly modern. Until the advent of Bryan in 1896, but one nominee undertook such a wearisome burden. In 1860, with civil war approaching, Stephen A. Douglas spoke far and wide in an effort to prevent Lincoln's election and its expected consequence, the secession of the South. When the October state elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana made Lincoln's victory in November almost certain, Douglas turned to the South, hoping to persuade it to remain in the Union.

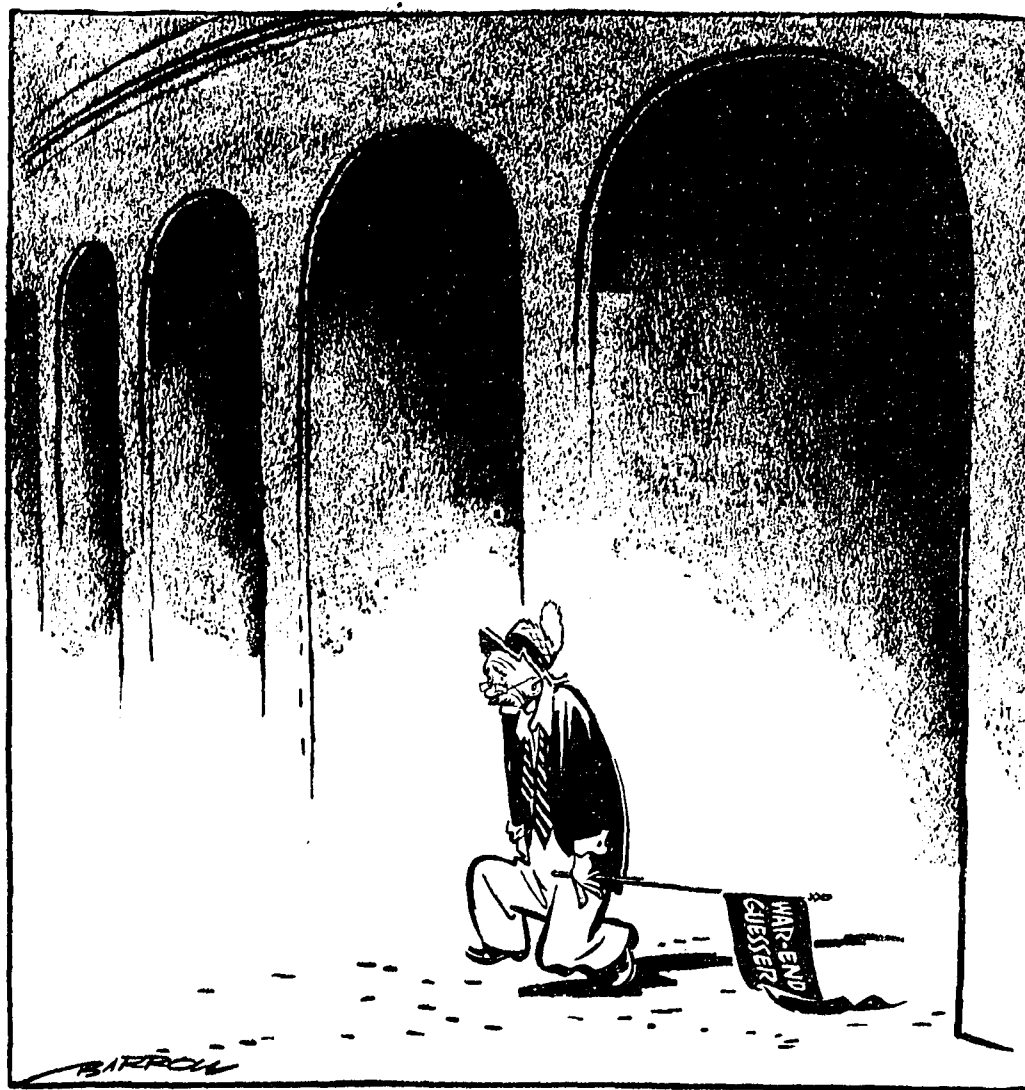

After Douglas, nationwide stumping trips remained almost as rare as they had been before 1860. Bryan set the new fashion, which, however, has been followed only occasionally since then. It may be noted that the most speeches have usually been made by the loser.

The Japanese puppet government of the Philippines has declared war on the United States and Great Britain. This is a good deal like a mouse declaring war on two tigers.

Apparently the hardest thing to endure in that war, since it began to rain, is cold feet—and no wise-cracks wanted.

As ancient Rome grew old and tired, the Huns and Vandals started breaking in and smashing things. A lot of present-day boys are imitating them.

ALL THINKING PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT VENERAL DISEASE; MANY CASES OF SYPHILIS HERE

"Every thinking citizen should know about venereal disease of which syphilis and gonorrhea play the chief parts and syphilis the leading role," Dr. Will Miller, director of the Corsicana-Navarro Health Department stated today in an interview with the Corsicana Daily Sun.

Pointing out that it is a well established fact that a big percent of our lame, blind, and feeble minded can be traced to venereal disease, he said that ten per cent of our population have a venereal disease, and one out of ten who reach 50 years of age will have had syphilis.

"These facts cannot be just ignored and passed up," the doctor emphasized. "We must wake up and do something, and in a big way. Some countries that have ignored these findings are now 75 per cent syphilitic and their figures can be remedied. These countries that have exercised eternal vigilance in this matter have only a fraction of one per cent syphilitic."

Many Cases Here

Declaring that public health is simply the education of our people in preventing all preventable disease and maintaining as high a standard as possible in all things to health and the welfare of man, Dr. Miller pointed out that in the Corsicana-Navarro Health Department we are now treating 788 cases of syphilis and our records show that hundreds have been dismissed as cured.

"Many of these patients are found in our routine check-ups of cooks, maids, food handlers and others who serve the public in general," he stated. Few people know that there is a state law requiring all food handlers to have a blood test. Every person employing a domestic should ask him or her for their health certificate, showing that she or he is free from communicable diseases. When any syphilitic is getting routine treatment they are perfectly safe and incommunicable.

Must Be Treated

"It is one of our most important responsibilities that we treat these individuals, thus keeping the patient at work, and at the same time safeguarding the health of the community," the doctor explained.

Continuing the discussion Dr. Miller said:

"To bring us up to date, let us go back to World War I. At that great struggle was over our government carefully tabulated just how hard we were hit, how many of our armed forces were wounded or killed. What did our military and naval hospital records reveal? The findings were staggering, for these records showed that 6,801,818 manpower days were lost due to venereal diseases, that there were approximately 157,000 more manpower days lost due to venereal disease than there were lost due to all battle wounds combined.

"These findings were most disgraceful and a reflection on our standard of living, indeed a black era in our history. Our government awoke to this appalling state of affairs and started a movement of educating the people of these United States. There have appeared many articles in our newspapers, medical magazines, our weekly and monthly magazines, and, further, over the radio, but many have yet to learn the true state of affairs.

400 Selectees Turned Down

"To bring these facts closer to home, our two selective service boards in Corsicana had around 400 selectees who had been turned down for military service due to syphilis. The number of selectees over the United States who had syphilis was so large that the boards had to start taking syphilitics to full their quota. Then the military service had to further examine these syphilitics, and if they did not have Cerebro-Syphilis or were not otherwise incapacitated, they were retained in service and their treatment started, but many were later found unfit for military service and discharged.

"To give you an idea of the ratio of syphilitics turned down with some of the so-called common diseases, there were three times as many with syphilis as were over weight, there were over four times as many with syphilis as there were with diabetes, twice as many with syphilis as with high blood pressure, almost three times as many with syphilis as with asthma, and hay fever combined, there were over three times as many with syphilis as with hemorrhoids, over four times as many with syphilis as with venereal diseases, and over eight times as many with syphilis as with tuberculosis.

Seek Out Contact

"Well, what is the government doing now to combat venereal disease? When a member of the military service reports or is found to be infected with a venereal disease, he or she is made to give the name, if possible, of the contact, the place and time of contact, and a description of said individual. These findings are sent to distributed to Public Health Units, investigators, and in many instances the local police forces. The contact is then brought in or told to report for treatment, and he or she must continue said treatment until pronounced cured.

Many individuals take their treatment gladly, but some are rebellious and have to be made to do so, or even jailed. Some of the larger centers of population maintain a kind of house retention, where all contacts are required to stay for several treatments. Then they must be brought in for treatment by the doctor of their choice or venereal disease clinics or they are picked up again and sent to confinement for treatment.

"The cartels often reveal all but unbelievable facts. For instance, a small seaborne so-called 'honky-tonk' where two women ran a little eating and drinking stand, infected seventy five men of a ship's crew in 36 hours with

Major Hoke Visits Corsicana Field

Major Roy T. Hoke, Jr., U. S. Army Air Forces, post adjutant at Eagle Pass Army Air Field, Eagle Pass, Texas, was a Corsicana Field visitor over the week-end.

Recently promoted to his present rank, the officer was stationed here from Aug. 1942 to April, 1944. It was announced by Lieut. C. R. Parrent, public relations officer.

A venereal disease. Another ship's crew of over 1100 once went ashore for 5 days and shortly thereafter over 900 of this crew were found to be infected with a venereal disease. You can readily see the vast amount of work necessary to ferret out all those contacts, and in a large city at that, but it is surprising how many are found and put under treatment.

Try To Educate People
"The United States Public Health Service is not only interested and working in the military phase of venereal problems, but in civil life as well. They are trying to educate the whole population, especially women who are pregnant and have syphilis. If these women take adequate treatment, nine out of ten of their babies will be born free of syphilis, while if treatment is not taken, nine out of ten will miscarry or give birth to a syphilitic child. The treatment of inherited syphilis is often very difficult. If every expectant mother does not have a blood test, she may have a syphilitic child and not know it, but very soon the sad news confronts her. Much damage to the infant has already been done, and in many cases, irreparable destruction has become apparent in her baby."

"Syphilis has long since been known to be spread through other channels than by sexual relations alone. It may be innocently picked up on one's lips, about the mouth and throat and further through open wounds and by transfusions, etc. Gonorrhea can be spread still more easily to an infant by careless handling and lack of sanitary precautions. Many a blind child or adult, as the case may be, owes its plight to gonorrhea being carelessly handled."

SECURITY

can launch their evil strength against weaker nations devoted to their peaceful pursuits. "The time," he continued, "we have been determined first to defeat the enemy, assure that he shall never again be in position to plunge the world into war and then to organize the peace-loving nations that they may, through unity of desire, unity of will, and unity of strength, be in position to assure that no other would be aggressor or conqueror shall even get started."

The security plan which also provides detailed proposals for peaceful settlement of disputes, is tentatively because it has not been formally accepted by any of the governments involved. It was drawn up at the Dumbarton Oaks conference which ended Saturday, and is issued in textual form here by Secretary of State Hull who described it as an "effort to make permanent a victory purchased at so heavy a cost in blood and tragic suffering and in treasure."

Long And Difficult
Soborly Hull warned in an accompanying statement that the road to establishment of the proposed organization "will be long, arduous and difficult, adding that much work remains to be done before a set of completed proposals can be laid down for a full-dress United Nations conference to bring the organization into being."
Under Secretary of State Stettinius, chairman of the Dumbarton Oaks sessions, said in his report to Hull that none of the gaps in plan is "in any sense insuperable." The chief unsolved problem is how the council should vote on questions of aggression. Russia contended that the big powers should retain the right to veto any decisions involving charges against them. The United States and Britain argued against any such veto.

As a matter of high policy, the issue may have to go to a meeting of Premier Stalin, President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek.

May All Meet

Such a meeting in the near future is regarded by competent authorities as a possibility even though Russia still is not at war with Japan. They say that in the interest of perfecting a world peace design Stalin may be willing for the first time to participate in talks with Chiang as well as with Roosevelt and Churchill.
The only thing officially announced on this point, however, is that the four governments "have agreed that after further study of these proposals they will as soon as possible take the necessary steps with a view to the preparation of complete proposals which could then serve as a basis for discussion at a full United Nations conference."

The blueprint calls for this machinery:

1. A general international organization to be known as "the United Nations." Each of the agencies proposed would be part of this organization.
2. General assembly. All members of the organization would belong to the assembly, each having one vote. The assembly would debate broad problems of peace and security, control of armaments, and the like. It could admit or expel members and make recommendations for action to the security council by two-thirds vote. It must meet at least once a year.

3. Security council. The United States, Britain, Russia and China "and, in due course, France," would compose permanently five of the 11 members. The assembly would elect the other six for two-year terms. By a system of voting still undecided the council would have power to order the use of force, economic measures, political isolation or any other steps considered necessary to put down the aggressor state. First however, it would try peaceful means such as negotiation and arbitration. It could recommend to the assembly the suspension or expulsion of any member nation found violating the principles of peace and security.

4. An international court of justice. Details of this still are to be worked out; it could be a continuation of the "permanent court of international justice" still in existence at the Hague, Holland.

It would consist of 18 member nations, none permanent, holding three-year terms. Its purpose would be to promote international economic stability and humanitarian activities designed to remove the causes of war. Linked with it would be such already established organizations as the international labor office, founded by the old League of Nations.

Need High Command
In addition these large units, the plan proposes creation of a "military staff committee" which in effect would be a high command for the organization. To be made up of the military leaders of the big powers, it could add temporarily the staff chiefs of other nations which were contributing forces for a specific operation.

One of the questions not decided at the Dumbarton Oaks conference was the disposal of the old League of Nations at Geneva. Another is the headquarters city of the proposed organization. All the big countries, including the United States, and most of the small ones are expected to bid for it.

The plan drawn up at Dumbarton Oaks, which could serve as a charter for the organization by changing a few words, does not define either a "peace-loving state" nor what constitutes aggression.

Deals In Detail
It deals in considerable detail, however, with means for providing and using force and other measures against an aggressor once the security council determines that a threat to peace exists.

"The security council," it says, "should be empowered to determine that diplomatic, economic, or other measures not involving the use of armed force should be employed to give effect to its decisions, and to call upon members of the organization to apply such measures."
Such measures may include complete or partial interruption of rail, sea, air, postal, telegraphic, radio and other means of communication and the severance of diplomatic relations.

"Should the security council consider such measures to be inadequate, it should be empowered to take such action by air, naval or land forces as may be necessary to maintain or restore international peace and security."

Actions Contemplated

"Such action may include demonstrations, blockade and other operations by air, sea or land forces of members of the organization."
The plan then specifies that the member nations should reach special agreements among themselves about "the number and types of forces and the nature of the facilities and assistance" they will make available in the call of the council.

A separate paragraph covers the special air force which would be ready for any emergency. It says: "In order to enable urgent military measures to be taken by the organization there should be held immediately available by the members of the organization national air force contingents for combined international enforcement action. The strength and degree of readiness."

Of these contingents and plans for their combined action should be determined by the security council with the assistance of the military staff committee within the limits laid down in the special agreement or agreements (guaranteeing to make forces available.)" result of the untiring devotion and care which the secretary of state had personally given to this work for more than two and a half years—indeed for many years.

The projected international organization has for its primary purpose the maintenance of international peace and security and the creation of the conditions that make for peace.

Need Such Organization.

We know now the need for such an organization of the peace-loving peoples and the spirit of unity which will be required to maintain it. Aggressors like Hitler and the Japanese war lords organize for years for the day when they can launch their evil strength against weaker nations devoted to their peaceful pursuits.

This time we have been determined first to defeat the enemy, assure that he shall never again be in position to plunge the world into war and then to so organize the peace-loving nations that they may, through unity of desire, unity of will and unity of strength, be in position to assure that no other would be aggressor or conqueror shall even get started.

Lay Foundations.

That is why from the very beginning of the war, and paralleling our military plans, we have begun to lay the foundations for the general organization for the maintenance of peace and security.

It represents, therefore, a major objective for which this war is being fought, and as such, it inspires the highest hopes of the millions of fathers and mothers whose sons and daughters are engaged in the terrible struggle and suffering of war.

The projected general organization may be regarded as the keystone of the arch and will include within its framework a number of specialized economic and social agencies now existing or to be established.

The task of planning the great design of security and peace has been well begun. It now remains for the nations to complete the structure in a spirit of constructive purpose and mutual confidence.

Action by Congress.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Action by both the senate alone and the entire congress is envisaged in the tentative outline for a world security organization made public today.

At least two treaties would come before the senate for ratification, while both houses would have to act on at least two pieces of legislation.

Treaty ratification would be required for:

1. The charter of the new organization.
2. A master agreement, or series of special agreements, guaranteeing armed forces and facilities of the member nations for use on the security council in maintaining peace and stamping out aggression.

The legislation would embrace:
1. A measure setting up the way in which American forces would be made available. It is understood the administration will press for creation of a special unit without further specific congressional approval.

2. Appropriation measures for the international organization and the United States armed force.

Dewey Pleased With Plan.
ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today described the Dumbarton Oaks post-war security plan as "a fine beginning in a momentous task."

"I am very happy over the results," he said in a formal statement.

Avenue Is Named

After Texas 36th Division in Die

WITH THE 36TH "TEXAS" DIVISION, France.—(AP)—The city of Die, to show appreciation to the 36th Division, passed a resolution naming its main street "Avenue Du La Division Du Texas," that is, Texas avenue.

Presented to Maj. Gen. John E. Dahlquist, commanding general of the 36th Division, the resolution was dated Aug. 31, 1944, and says that the city of Die wishes to show its extreme gratitude to the American troops, particularly the Texas Division, first unit to victoriously enter the city.

Monsieur Plan, mayor of Die, hoped to hold a formal parade and review, but since the advance was so rapid it was necessary to forego such a celebration.

Die's re-emphasized his previously expressed stand that "not only the great but the small nations must have a full share in shaping the peace structure if it is to work."

He echoed Secretary of State Hull's caution that there is "much still to be done," and declared "we should push forward steadily to do it."

Dewey had been kept continuously advised of the four-power talks in Washington, which ended last Saturday.

lection in the Sunday Austin American-Statesman of a story saying that an ultimatum had been sent to Dr. Rainey, "leaving no time upon Rainey to quit making so many speeches." Dr. Rainey confirmed that he had been sent word "to confine my speeches to university business."

The newspaper said Strickland telephoned the orders to Burdine, and that at the time, he was with Schreiner and Bickett. Burdine, in his statement yesterday, said he had not talked with any agent but Strickland.

An Amazing Statement.
Dr. Rainey, commenting on Strickland's denial, said: "That is an amazing statement. He delivered the message to Dr. Burdine who called me immediately. Mr. Strickland will not deal with me personally any more."

From his home in Mission, Strickland told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram:

"If there were to be such an ultimatum, it would be on the minutes of the board. For the first time in 50 years, you can read the board minutes any day you wish."

"An intelligent man wouldn't deliver such an ultimatum, and it's ridiculous on the face of it that three members could have the authority to say such a thing." The Star-Telegram also quoted Bickett as saying that the board of regents has never made any ultimatum "and will not make any attempt to limit anyone's right to free speech. There is a rule of the board of 25 years standing which protects the academic freedom of members of the faculty."

Out of State Trips.
Burdine's statement added that Strickland had brought up the subject of Dr. Rainey's out of state trips, saying "that the president ought to stay in Austin more and attend to university matters."

Burdine said he was told that the limiting of such trips by "disposition of the board had been contemplated" and that he (Burdine) replied, "such action by the board would be considered as a personal insult to the president."

The vice president said he called Rainey and informed him of this matter as I had been specifically requested to do."

Rainey and the board of regents have frequently clashed over university administration, and a year ago, the board removed from office Arthur Brandon, long-time friend and associate of Rainey, who was director of public relations.

Last week, the board rejected Rainey's recommendation that the university medical school be removed from Galveston to Austin.

FRANCIS DENMAN, LT. NEAL PRINCE WED IN HOUSTON

St. Paul's Methodist church in Houston was the scene of a wedding of notable interest throughout the state on Saturday evening when Miss Francis Denman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Peyton R. Denman, became the bride of Lt. Neal A. Prince, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Prince of Corsicana.

The bride was in white and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The groom wore a tuxedo.

The ceremony was officiated by Dr. E. B. Thern, officiant at the double-bar ceremony and Anthony Rabe was at the organ for the program. Music preceding the ceremony and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess styled gown of white tulle, long train. The square yoke of the bodice was edged with ruffles of lace and the long train sleeves ended in points over the hands. The gown was decorated with the classic lines of the gown extended into a full cathedral train. Her veil of English illusion fell from a Mary Tudor bonnet. Her bodice was lace and she carried a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis.

The bride's attendants were: Maid of honor, Miss Mary Jane Hamilton, sister of the bride, matron of honor, Mrs. Fred Williams, Mrs. Elton Ernst and Mrs. Frank R. Denman, bridesmaids.

Mrs. Denman, mother of the bride, chose a dinner gown of mauve crepe, purple velvet hat accented by rose trimming. Her carriage was of tulle, beaded, Mrs. Prince was in blue lace with hat of duonnet velvet and carriage of duonnet-hued carriage.

A reception after ceremony.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents where arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums were featured in the decor. The meal was banked with glistening magnolia foliage and a bouquet of the favored blossoms graced the piano.

The bride's table held the double-bar wedding cake embossed with sugar-spun orchids, roses and stephanotis, while garlands of gardenias along the length of the board added to its beauty.

The couple left later on a wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride donning for travel an original model woolen suit of water-fall, smart black hat and black accessories, and white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom received his commission on Wednesday at Fort Belvoir, Va. Both are graduates of the AAF.

The couple will make their home in Alexandria, La., while he is stationed at Camp Claiborne.

"The French are better to the soldiers than any other group of people we've met," Pfc. Sam Wilson recently wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wilson, from somewhere in France. Pfc. Wilson also stated that he is now being fed and is "getting fat."

A brother, Pvt. Lonnie Wilson, somewhere in India, sent his parents an army newspaper named "The Roundup From India." He wrote that in India it was still hot and still raining.

Information From Navarro County Rationing Board

QUESTION: Are there ceiling prices on mixed feed?

ANSWER: Yes, the feed mixers are determined according to the cost to him of the ingredients. As grain prices advanced during the year mixed feed prices advanced also. Now that grain prices are stationary or even dropping a little, mixed feed prices should not advance and can even be expected to work lower in price.

QUESTION: Has the OPA established floor prices for all farm products?

ANSWER: The War Food Administration and not the Office of Price Administration sets floor prices. Most farm products are assured of floor or support prices for two years after the close of the war. Such assurances are mostly promised that will apparently require appropriations or other enabling legislation.

QUESTION: Why are ceiling prices on live hogs less in the southwest than in Chicago? Since the southwest does not always raise as many hogs as it consumes one would expect prices to be higher here than in the cornbelt.

ANSWER: In setting ceiling prices OPA must recognize historical practices. In pre-war times the prices of hogs were less than at Chicago so ceiling prices now must show a similar difference.

Many Lives Lost, Much Property Is Destroyed By Fire

Farm fires are costing the nation more than one hundred million dollars a year in addition to the loss of nearly four thousand lives, Lennox O. Wright, Farm Security Administration Supervisor said today in calling attention to the President's proclamation setting aside the week of October 14th as National Fire Prevention Week.

"Let's feed our food to fighters instead of fire," Wright urged.

Evidence that the fire menace is becoming increasingly serious is found in figures just released by the United States Department of Agriculture which shows that total fire losses in the United States in 1943 were 37 per cent higher than in 1935, and during the first six months of this year are 15 per cent above the same period in 1943.

In addition to the loss of buildings and crops on farms, industrial property directly involving the processing or storing of food supplies suffered losses in excess of 90 million dollars last year.

FSA families in Navarro county are being asked to check their premises for fire hazards and eliminate them. Last year 21 million dollar worth of farm barns burned down, fires caused by faulty lightning rods, faulty hay storage, faulty electrical wiring. Wright emphasized the need for having readily available a ladder which will reach to the top of the highest farm building, a water supply for fire fighting purposes, fire breaks around hay stacks and farm buildings; and a fire extinguisher in the barn or house for emergency use.

"We can speed victory by preventing fires. Lives and food supplies are important to our nation at war," Wright said.

Kerens and Frost Lead District 21-B

Kerens Robats and Frost Polar Bears are still setting the pace in District 21-B Interscholastic League, a compilation of results of last week show. They are tied for the lead with three wins and no losses each.

Kerens, however, is the favorite as the East Navarro counties have defeated the Hubbard Jags, 1943 district champions, 12-0, and Wortham, 13-0 a club that played Hubbard to a scoreless tie.

Both are team customers. Frost has not played either crew and may be in for considerable trouble. Both teams have defeated Trinidad. Kerens won, 34-6. In the first game of the season while Frost this week won 21-0. It is generally harder to defeat a club before it has lost than after a couple or more losses have been absorbed.

Kerens has an easier schedule than has Frost who still must play Wortham, Hubbard, Kerens, Blooming Grove and Mildred.

Frost, beginning this week, meets Wortham, Hubbard and Kerens in a row—three tough assignments. Kerens is idle this week and then meets Blooming Grove the week before Frost is entertained at Kerens.

KERENS, Oct. 7.—(Spl)—The Board of Stewards and their wives of the First Methodist Church of Kerens met at the parsonage Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock for a buffet supper, the courtesy of Rev. and Mrs. Margaret B. Weds St. Paul Girl

In Reno, Nevada

The following article, which appeared in the October 10 issue of the Reno Nevada State Journal will be of interest here:

The marriage of Miss Bonnie Wallace of St. Paul, Minn., and S-Sgt. Billy B. Inman of the armed forces was solemnized last night at the Kerens Methodist church with the Rev. Lawrence Osborne officiating.

For the occasion the church altar was decorated with tall baskets of mixed autumn flowers and highway flowers.

Mrs. Clarence K. Jones presided at the organ and during the ceremony softly played "O Promise Me."

The bride was lovely in garb and the groom, a handsome young man, was in full military dress. Her other accessories matched.

Standing with the couple were Lt. and Mrs. Lloyd Carraway, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

A wedding dinner at the Carraway home at 227 Marsh followed the ceremony.

Sgt. and Mrs. Inman will spend several days in Reno, later continuing on to Corsicana, Texas, where they will reside.

Tech. Sst. Dick Eliot brought interesting facts concerning his experiences in the China-Burma-India theater where he was presented as a program highlight at the chapel program of Robert E. Lee school on Friday afternoon.

Sgt. Eliot has just arrived for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Edgar Eliot of Richmond, after serving 32 months in that theater.

Children of Robert E. Lee school were particularly interested in the souvenirs displayed by the speaker, and the Mohammedan costume that was modeled by one of their classmates, Billie Robinson. This costume featured a white blouse, full bell trousers and a red fez. Included in Sgt. Eliot's collection of native articles were ivory necklaces, sandalwood paper knives, carved cigarette boxes, a porcupine quill jewel case, a camel shell, a handily embroidered shawl, a Hindu fez and a pair of coverlets.

CORSICANA MAN IN FAMOUS 14TH ARMY CORPS S. W. PACIFIC

OPERATIONS IN SOLOMONS RESULTED IN DEATH ESTIMATED 15,000 JAPS

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC: It's been a long time since the XIV Army Corps was activated at Brownwood, Texas, Dec. 22, 1942, but since then this command which includes 14 officers and 52 enlisted men from Texas, has directed operations in the Solomons which have resulted in the death of an estimated more than 15,000 Japanese.

Under Lieut. Gen. (then Maj. Gen.) Alexander M. Patch, present commander of the 7th Army in the current battle for Nazi-held Europe, the XIV Corps directed the American and 25th Army Divisions and elements of the 2nd Marine Division in the final drive which expelled the Japanese from Guadalcanal early in February, 1943.

Lighting Campaign
Maj. Gen. O. W. Griswold relieved General Patch as XIV Corps commanding general in April, 1943. In a lightning campaign which began June 30 with the invasion of Rendova Island, General Griswold's forces which included the 37th (Buckeye) and the 43rd (New England) divisions together with elements of the 25th Division, seized New Guinea on which is the vital Munda airfield and adjacent islands. This campaign ended Oct. 6, 1943.

In one of the most decisive defeats in the history of the Japanese military the XIV Corps in Bougainville in March of this year virtually annihilated the once fine 17th Imperial Japanese Army, killing an estimated 8,000 enemy in 18 days of violent fighting.

Crack Japs Defeated
Part of this Japanese army is the Sixth Division, considered Japan's finest division in the early Chinese campaigns. It participated in the Rape of Nanking in 1937. General Griswold's forces racked up an impressive ratio of 30 Japanese slain for each American killed in this Second Battle of Bougainville. The 7th and American divisions were principal combat units of the XIV Corps during this operation.

BRIG. GENERAL AUBRY L. MOORE, NATIVE THIS COUNTY, AWARDED DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

HQ. TENTH AIR FORCE IN INDIA.—In a simple ceremony held in Headquarters of the 10th USAAF, Brigadier General Aubry L. Moore, Chief of Staff, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross by Major General Howard C. Davidson, Commanding General of the Tenth. The citation accompanying the award reads in part:

Combat Missions
"...for extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight. From 7 March 1944 to 1 September 1944, Brigadier General Moore, as Chief of Staff of the Tenth Air Force, participated in combat missions over enemy territory where enemy fire was probable and expected. These flights were made during daylight and darkness and in all kinds of weather. All flights were made voluntarily to gain first-hand knowledge of operations of this command and to perform visual reconnaissance for future attack. The knowledge thus obtained by Brigadier General Moore resulted in definite improvement in the air operations, the command, and the effectiveness of the operational control exercised by the Tenth Air Force over subordinate units. The initiative, courage and leadership displayed by Brigadier General Moore during these missions reflected great credit upon himself and upon the Army Air Forces of the United States."

General Moore has been Chief of Staff of the 10th USAAF since December 23, 1943. He joined the Tenth when plans were being formulated for the highly successful aerial operations in support of the ground campaigns directed against the Japanese which resulted in the decisive Allied victories in North Burma and the Philippines. Units of the Tenth were shifted frequently in stopping the abortive enemy drive into India at Imphal and, later, in taking the offensive that culminated in the capture of Myitkyin. The state work involved was mountainous, but the plans carried through without a hitch. General Moore played a vital part in these accomplishments. During this period, his own Headquarters changed location three times.

Native of Navarro County
He is a dyed-in-the-wool Texan from Hubbard. He was born Aug. 4, 1901 at Emmett, Navarro county. His mother, Mrs. J. M. Moore, still lives there while his wife resides only 30 miles away at Hillsboro. A sister, Mrs. Moore, is Librarian at Baylor University in Waco and another, Mrs. J. W. Faulkner, lives in Port Arthur. Lieutenant Colonel I. G. Moore, another brother, recently returned to the United States from service in Italy.

General Moore is another contribution of Texas A. and M. to the Armed Forces—being graduated in 1923. After a short time as a civilian, he became a flying cadet, receiving his wings and commission as Second Lieutenant in 1928. A short tour as a member of the 1st Pursuit Group was followed by his becoming an instructor. He taught at March Airfield, California.

Ability Recognized
In 1934, he became Base Engineer-Officer at Wheeler Field in Hawaii after his graduation from the Air Corps Technical School at Chanute Field. His administrative ability was quickly recognized and his rise was steady in the traditional Army pattern. One of his assignments was with the famous 7th Bombardier Group which holds the record for continuous action against the enemy in World War II and whose officers were the nucleus of the 10th USAAF when it came into existence in India in March 1942. The Seventh is still a unit of 10th USAAF. At the time of the Seventh was the present Air Commander, Eastern Air Command—Major General George E. Stratemeyer—under whom combat units of the USAAF and RAF in India and Burma are now operating.

Awarded Legion Merit
In 1939, he joined the Plans Division under Lieutenant General Carl Spaatz. For the next two years, he was hard at work on the tremendous expansion of the Army Air Forces. His contribution throughout this important period was attested by the award of the Legion of Merit.

Program Planning, a logical extension of the Plans Division, was his next assignment followed by tours of duty as Deputy Chief of

This is the first death from automobile mishaps in Navarro county during 1944, according to records of this newspaper.

Harriett Ann Finch, five-year old daughter of John S. Finch, Jr., Corsicana, a grand-niece of the deceased, was in the 1927 Ford coupe driven by Mr. Freemon. She escaped with minor injuries. The car turned over, pinning the victim against the pavement, according to witnesses. The other automobile involved was driven by J. C. Watson, Navarro county school superintendent. Supt. Watson said he did not see the other automobile in time to avoid the collision. He escaped with minor bruises.

Freemon had resided in the Chatfield area for the past 44 years.

Corley Funeral Home directed the arrangements.
